all the new lines and all the new patterns in stripes, clockwork, plaids and polkadots, in fact everything that is to be worn this season. When you see them on our shelves you will want to see them on yourselves, and we have set a price that you cannot resist the temptation.

THE RACKET STORE

L. T. DENMARK, Proprietor

Superintendent's Corner.

In behalf of the pupils and patrons of the Adabelle school, Miss Ethel Donehoo teacher, desires to thank Dr. J. E. Donehoo, Mr. J. A. McDougall and all others who so kindly assisted in the building of the nicely equipped school building which they so liberally gave. The school opened Monday, Jan. 6th, with an enrollment of thirty-two bright, intelligent, eager-to-learn children. We sincerely ask the co-operation of all concerned that we may make this a prosperous and profitable school year.

You should have seen the teachers of Bulloch county assembled together. You would have concluded that we are to have some successful teaching this year. All of our teachers this year are good ones, I think.

Teachers, beautify your school grounds, and, too, do not neglect the appearance of your school rooms. Get some good pictures for the walls. They are cheap, and there is no excuse not having plenty of them.

Every teacher is expected to organize a boys' corn club this year. This great enterprise is too important to be neglected. Begin now to get the boys to join the club.

Do not neglect the writing period. Writing has been neglected entirely too much in the rural schools. The result is we have very few good penmen. Give your pupils a lesson each day in writing. I will inspect the writing of the pupils when I call on your school, and if you are not teaching penmanship, I will want to know why.

Teach the child to read; then it can read to learn. One great trouble with the teaching of reading is the child is promoted to a higher grade before it has mastered the grade level. All children should have more than one reader from which to read. If the patron sees to it that the children read a great deal at home the teacher would make a great deal more progress in her school work. After all, the child has to learn for himself; the teacher cannot do it for him. Learn to read, then read to learn.

The special examination will be given next Saturday, the 25th. All those who are teaching without a Georgia license will be present to take this examination.

Four members of the board of education were present at the teachers' institute. The other member was away on account of sickness. This shows that the board is interested in the promotion of education in Bulloch county.

The school at Central Academy is progressing nicely under the management of Prof. Coomer, of Kentucky, and Miss Carrie Jones as assistant, with 61 pupils on the roll.

SAVE NEGRO BABY FROM RAGING FIRE

Then Two Kansas City Firemen Wrangle Over the Job of Being Nurse.

Kansas City, Mo.—Dense clouds of black smoke issuing from the windows of a frame house brought the Kansas City (Kan.) fire department to 1309 North Third street, Kansas City, Kan. Mrs. Carrie Pannell, a negro, thirty-eight years old, and her seventeen-year-old daughter Daisy ran down the stairs leaving behind the week old infant of the latter.

Found Himself Almost Powerless.

Without hesitation Archie Clark and Captain Charles Abraham of No. 1 hose company puffed their helmets down over their ears, took a long breath and disappeared into the black smoke. A moment later they emerged, sneezing and rubbing their eyes. Clark carrying what appeared to be a bundle of clothes. When they reached the street the mother and grandmother

ILL FROM MOCK LYNCHING

Kenosha, Wis.—Andrew F. Stahl, sheriff of Kenosha county, staged a mock lynching near Salem the other day, with the object of frightening Wiley Davis, a negro, to confess stealing a shotgun. His plan was successful but the negro is now in jail, suffering from nervous prostration.

The gun was taken from Fred A. Sharp of Kenosha. He had been hunting, and was asleep in a field when the negro passed. He told a hard luck story, and Sharp gave him the gun. Then Sharp went to sleep again, and the negro returned and stole the gun.

Sharp awoke, missed the gun and suspected the negro. Davis was captured. He did not have the gun with him, however, and protested that he had not stolen it. The sheriff believed the negro was lying and decided on a mock lynching scheme as a means of making him confess.

Several farmers surrounded the prisoner, and the sheriff told him he had better confess. Then one of the farmers got a rope. It was thrown over the prisoner's neck, and he was being marched toward a tree when he suddenly halted and called out:

The rope was taken from his neck and he led the sheriff to a nearby swamp, where the gun was found hidden.

"I guess that is some third degree, boys, and I am much obliged to you for helping it out," was the only comment of the sheriff, as he tucked the negro into the automobile and started for Kenosha.

Davis believes that the mock lynching was a home-bred uprising of the farmers against the black race.

BATTLE FOR LIFE ON THE LAKE'S BOTTOM

Chicago.—A terrific battle on the bottom of Lake Michigan, thirteen feet below the surface, between a drowning man and his companion who had dived to his aid was waged the other day. Frank Halla succeeded in breaking the death strangle hold of Frank Halla, a drowning man, brought him to the surface and towed him to the shore.

Found Himself Almost Powerless.

The rescue was effected after Halla almost had been suffocated by the grasp of the drowning man. Persons who witnessed the rescue declare it to be one of the bravest. Efforts will be made to obtain a Carnegie medal for Halla.

Halla, who lives at 1213 North Clark street, and Haller, 68 West Ontario street, was rescued.

ROOSTER HATCHES CHICKENS

New Answer to the Question: "Which Is the Mother to the Offspring?"

Baltimore, Md.—The question whether the incubator that hatches the chick or the hen that lays the egg is the mother of the offspring has been bothering amateur poultry fanciers for years. "But suppose a rooster hatches the egg—what then?" Captain John White, 1514 Retreat street, would like to know.

Captain White, who hails from Salisbury, Wicomico county, has a rooster that hatched two chicks. In a wooden box Pete, the rooster, sits with ruffled feathers clucking like a hen. Under his wings are two tiny, fuzzy chicks.

Some time ago the captain saw Pete sitting on a nest in which were several eggs. "Shoo," yelled the captain. But Pete refused to budge. The same thing happened the next day. In order to see what happened the captain placed three eggs in a box and Pete on top of them. The rooster accepted the situation and stuck to his post until yesterday, when he strutted forth and two chicks followed him. Since that time he has taken care of them as carefully as a hen.

Old Orchard in Bloom.

Connersville, Ind.—An old Vanderpipp orchard on the Charles Clarksdale farm, in Harrison township, was in bright bloom Sept. 29. Among the buds and blossoms was an abundance of ripening fruit of perfect formation. These trees are half a century old and have borne with regularity for many years. The fruit is excellent and the owners have shown evidence of frankness.

Trap Hat Smashers.

Philadelphia.—Fifteen policemen, dressed in citizen garb, with straw hats upon their brow, paraded Broad street. Their hats were smashed, but 35 wreckers were jailed and fined $7.50 each.

ROBBERS AT STILLMORE PLUNDER EIGHT PLACES

THEN CUT TELEGRAPH AND TELEPHONE WIRES AND FLED

Stillmore, Ga., Jan. 25.—Stillmore was visited by robbers last night for the first time in about two years. The postoffice was entered through a window. The safe door was opened, the combination being worked. So far no loss of funds nor stamps has been discovered. W. R. Willis' jewelry store, adjoining the postoffice, was entered and about $18 worth of jewelry is missing. J. B. Hussey's dry goods store was entered and some goods are missing. The Southern Express Company's office, the Wadley Southern railroad depot, the Georgia and Florida depot and the Stillmore Bottling Works were also entered.

CUT OUT SEA ISLAND, ADVICE OF FACTORS

SAVANNAH BUYERS GIVE SUGGESTIONS TO GROWERS

Savannah, Jan. 24.—Forced to adopt drastic measures because of the serious inroads made into the consumption of American sea island cotton by the inferior grades raised in the valley of the Nile and commonly known as Egyptian staple, the majority of the Savannah factors within the past few days have written their country clients strongly urging that the sea island cotton crop for 1913-14 be wholly eliminated.

Should this advice be strictly followed it will mean, broadly speaking, that the crop of this splendid staple will be reduced to a minimum, if indeed the entire crop is not eliminated.

The far reaching influence of the advice issued by the local sea island factors who, for the most part, stand firmly for the elimination of the crop for the coming season, cannot be questioned. It is the direct statement of one of the largest dealers in this special kind of cotton that the Savannah trade is "master of the situation," since it is customary for heavy advancements to the regular planters doing business with the local firms.

The gentleman in question said that the control of the situation could be made through the refusal to advance the necessary funds to the planters with which to finance the coming crop. Other dealers in sea island were equally as positive in their statements regarding the matter.

The growing use of Egyptian cotton by the European spinners was noted several months ago, but did not, at the time, occasion any apprehension on the part of the American planters and factors. They believed that the superior staple produced in this section of the United States would guarantee any possibility of the inferior Egyptian staple becoming a serious competitor with the excellent cotton of America, used to manufacture the finest grades of fabrics in the spinning industry.

It has been noted, however, that the spinners of Europe have gradually adopted the inferior Nile valley staple in place of the American sea islands, since the prices were considerably lower. It is said upon apparently unquestionable authority that the American mills are now importing this staple to the exclusion of the home grown cotton, since it can be laid down at the spinning centers, even after the entire cost of transportation has

STATE MUST FURNISH COMPETENT COUNSEL

THOSE CHARGED WITH CRIME MUST BE REPRESENTED

Atlanta, Jan. 25.—Governor Brown, in commuting from death to life imprisonment the sentence of Henry Wilson, a negro, who was to have been hanged in Baldwin county next week, today issued an order which plainly puts the judges of the courts in Georgia on notice that the present executive will not tolerate inexperienced and unskilled counsel to the defense of poor and ignorant defendants, particularly when on trial for their lives, pitting them against expert prosecuting attorneys employed by the state.

The Governor, in vigorous and carefully considered language, makes it known that he will require the state to provide counsel equal to its own for a defendant without means. He insists that the practice of withholding these assignments to the state's service from lawyers of experience, in favor of novices at the bar, must cease, or executive interference may be anticipated after trial.

The case in mind was one where in Henry Taylor, a weak-minded and ignorant negro, in attacking a crowd of boys teasing and annoying him, shot at one boy and killed another. He was convicted of murder and sentenced to hang. The negro was too poor to employ counsel and a newly admitted attorney, entirely inexperienced, was assigned to his defense. The negro's conviction followed speedily.

In the commutation of sentence, the executive order, in part, reads: "It is a basic principle, quite proper for unvarying application, that everyone accused of crime shall have a complete and fair trial, and when the accused, by reason of poverty, is unable to employ counsel the trial judge is required by law to appoint adequate counsel to defend him. It is well known that lawyers of high ability and experience endeavor to avoid this kind of service; hence, occasionally junior members of the bar are designated. In such cases there is a liability that inequality will triumph over impartiality.

"I cannot escape the conviction that an indigent defendant, when on trial for his life, should be furnished by the state with an advocate whose long experience would enable him to handle the full extent and weight of the evidence in such manner as will exhaust the foundation of justice for the poor man as thoroughly as paid counsel will exhaust them for the rich.

"In other words, the state must not penalize poverty or ignorance; she must not in her self-directed processes, even discriminate against either; nay, I go further and say that she must protect the poor and ignorant in their right to secure impartial justice. Otherwise she will violate the spirit of her own law by overstraining it into a blind enforcement which may substitute rigor for justice.

"The glory of her institutions will be found in her proof to the poorest and weakest of either race that she will see to it that the scales of justice hang as evenly for them as for the rich and strong.

MAON MILITARY AND DRUM CORPS SPECIAL TO CARRY CROWD TO INAUGURATION

A widespread interest is being manifested in the special train that will be operated from Macon to Washington, leaving Macon at 10 a. m. March 1, via the Central of Georgia railway and Seaboard Air Line railway.

This train will consist of electrically lighted Pullman sleeping car and dining car, and in addition to the Macon military companies, the Macon drill corps and bugle corps and the Sons of Veterans, many representative men and women from middle, south and southwest of Georgia will join the party and witness the inaugural ceremonies, which will make Woodrow Wilson president.

The train is expected to arrive Washington at 10 a. m. March 2, passing Atlanta, Raleigh, Richmond, Fredericksburg and into Washington along the banks of the historic Potomac river.

Arrangements will probably be made for the national guard, the drum corps and other organizations to draw their respects to the governors of North Carolina and Virginia, as Raleigh and Richmond are passed.

Very low fares for individuals with liberal stop-over privileges, and also party fares for twenty-five or more on one ticket, have been authorized from practically all points.

Detailed information may be secured by applying to your nearest ticket agent. Reservations on the big special train may be secured by communicating directly, or through your agent, with Mr. John W. Mount, district passenger agent, Central of Georgia railway, corner Second and Cherry streets, Macon, Ga.

WHIPPED BOY IN SCHOOL; IS CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

ALDERMAN CHARGES THAT PROF. USHER BEAT HIS SON UNMERCIFULLY

Upon a charge of assault and battery, Prof. G. E. Usher will be given a preliminary trial today before Judge J. W. Rountree, the charge growing out of the whipping of young Tommie Alderman in school last Friday afternoon. The case against the superintendent was made by the boy's father, O. C. Alderman, who charges that the whipping was unnecessarily severe, therefore criminal.

Young Alderman is 15 years of age and is a pupil of the tenth grade. The whipping occurred in the presence of the class, and is said to have created a good deal of excitement. No public statement has been made by the teacher as to the reasons for the whipping, nor as to its severity. The trouble is understood to have arisen from the boy's conduct in the class, and was in regard to the recitation of his lessons.

FREE CANAL TOLLS STRONGLY UPHOLD

DISCRIMINATION IS DENIED

This Government Contents for the Right to Allow Free Passage to Coastwise Ships.

Washington.—Secretary Knox's reply to the British protest against the exemption of American coastwise shipping from Panama canal tolls required the British government to permit to extend operation into foreign competitive fields and that increased tolls will not be laid on British ships to balance the remission to American ships. If Great Britain is not satisfied on these points America proposes a special commission to settle the matter.

The communication is devoted to the purpose of reducing to the smallest point and number the issues upon which the two governments failed to agree and as to those—two—it is contended that they are entirely susceptible of adjustment by diplomatic means, and without recourse to arbitration.

If this course should not prove acceptable to the British government, it is suggested that the whole controversy be referred to a special commission of inquiry.

LITTLE ITEMS FROM GEORGIA CITIES

Gravitas.—A Dutch colony of about twenty families en route to Brownsville on the Jacksonville and West-ern railroad, a few miles from here, where they have purchased lands from T. B. Hagan of Hawkinsville. They intend to do farming.

Macon.—B. H. Smith, living on the Houston road, near Macon, was arrested by United States marshals on the charge of counterfeiting. The marshals seized two complete plaster paris molds for the making of silver and gold coins of all denominations. The molds were hidden in a closet in a corner of a blacksmith shop.

Perry.—By a strange freak of "justice," W. E. Turner stands convicted of gambling by himself alone. At the October term of Houston superior court, Turner, J. P. Lubetkin and Brad Houser were indicted by the grand jury for gambling.

Forrestville.—Six negroes, including one convicted of murder and awaiting sentence to hang, confined in the Monroe county jail in Forrestville, broke their way out of the jail on the night of the 10th inst. The negroes, who were charged with being in the same name, Turner was found guilty. Houser was acquitted and Lubetkin a mistrial. In the trial of Lubetkin, the case also was acquitted, leaving Turner convicted of gambling by himself.

All men are equal at the altar—that is, none of them count for anything.

An ideal hubby is one who never breaks any of the promises he made before marriage.

About the only difference between a job and a position is in the amount of work.

We have never yet seen a man so loyal to party that he would refuse votes from the other side.

If you really want to flatter a person and make it stick, just tell him that he is not easily flattered.

A Burmese official has been arrested for stealing 250 elephants. This is the largest theft on record.

The souvenir business is the modern way of disposing of stuff that no one has any earthly use for.

There is no reasoning with a girl who has made up her mind to get married. She has passed that stage.

Esperanto hasn't any swear words. This is probably the reason it is shorter than other languages.

Burbank has grown a seedless prune, and now it is up to him to produce a prunelless boarding house.

The person who always scratches sunshine along his or her way need have little fear of the day of judgment.

When attending a theatre a big hat in front is not nearly so offensive as a whiskey perfumed breath behind.

When a man gets so he doesn't enjoy a picnic an inspection will show that his head carries many gray hairs.

A mosquito lays forty eggs a day. It might be well to let a few run with your hens for breeding purposes.

It is getting so there are nearly as many people mortgaging their homes to buy automobiles as there are to buy eggs.

Every man gets to the front sooner or later. If in no other way he always heads his own funeral procession.

HOW AN INDIANA GIRL

Got Strong and Well Again at Small Cost.

Miss Alta Abel, of West Baden, Ind., says: "I was a complete wreck, all ways tired, worried and nervous. I had to spend about one-third of my time in bed and my life was not worth living. Vinol, your delicious cod liver and iron tonic was recommended, and it has done me more good than all the medicine I ever took in my life. That nervous and tired feeling is all gone. I have gained in health, flesh and strength, until I feel like another person."

Vinol is the most efficient strength-giver for such women. It is the medicinal elements of the cod livers contained in Vinol, aided by the blood-making and strengthening properties of tonic iron, which makes it so far superior to all other tonics to build up health and strength for weak, tired, ailing women. It contains no oil and has a delicious taste.

We give back your money if Vinol does not do all that we claim. W. H. Ellis Co., Druggists, Statesboro, Ga.

Advice to Cotton Planters.

In another column is a lengthy article written to the sea island cotton growers of Bulloch by the Brooks Simmons Co. The suggestions offered in this article are timely, and the reasons given are obviously correct. Bulloch county is well known as a sea island cotton growing section, and is well adapted to the growing of that staple with profit when conditions are anything like favorable. It has been well understood that the demand for sea island cotton is limited, and that an overproduction easily causes a fall in the profit of its growing. It is also well understood that, during the past season, with even short crop, the prices have been far below what might have been expected. The reason for this is plainly stated in the article by the Brooks Simmons Co. Our cotton growers will do well to read this, and may be profited by the suggestions offered. It is better, at least, to avoid the risk of a still lower price another year, and those who turn to the growing of the other staple will be safe in this respect.

Bob Berner Wants Attorneyship.

The many friends in Bulloch county of Hon. R. L. Berner will be interested to learn that he will be a candidate under the Wilson administration for the office of United States attorney for the Southern district of Georgia, a position now held by Alex. Akerman, of Macon.

Col. Berner is one of the prominent democrats of Georgia, and is personally known to as many men as any citizen of the state. He has rendered service to the party in the ranks and at the front, and has in times past shown himself to be a democrat worthy of the name.

Col. Berner has an especially warm place in the hearts of the people of Bulloch, and it will be remembered that he carried this county overwhelmingly when he was a candidate for governor against Gov. Chandler some fifteen years ago. He has been conspicuous in the recent past as a supporter of Senator Hoke Smith, and it is a safe prediction that he will be able to count upon the aid of the Senator in the present contest, which makes it seem quite probable that he will be able to secure the prize for which he is striving.

Gov. Brown's Position.

One cannot fail to admire the position of Gov. Brown as announced in a recent paper in the commutation of the sentence of a negro from death to life imprisonment. The position of the Governor that those accused of crime should be provided with counsel equal to that of the state, is most eminently correct. As he points out, it is the custom of many courts to assign to those unable to employ counsel, young attorneys who are unskilled at law. The result is that the culprit is too often poorly defended, and much of the merit of the case is never brought before the jury.

An instance of the kind is said to have occurred at the local bar some years ago. A negro charged with a serious crime was asked by the judge if he desired to plead guilty or to trial. The man desired to fight for his rights but had no attorney. The judge assigned a young member of the bar to his defense, whereupon, after taking a look at the lawyer, so youthful and helpless looking, the prisoner declared in open court that he desired to withdraw his plea of not guilty at once. It caused a titter to pass about the court room, and the joke was thought to be on the attorney who had been appointed by the court, but it was a serious matter to the accused man.

As the Governor points out in his statement, those who are able to employ counsel generally get the best of the case; the state's counsel is supposed to be skilled in the prosecution of crime, and generally is. It is, therefore, manifestly unfair to those accused of crime to send them to trial without adequate counsel.

Respectfully submitted,
A. J. MOONEY,
BROOKS SIMMONS,
HINTON BOOYER,
Committee.

Day Jones Buys Newspaper.

The many friends of Mr. J. Day Jones, formerly of this county, will be interested to learn of his success in the newspaper business at Jackson, where he has been for the past few years. The following is taken from the Monroe Advertiser:

Mr. J. Day Jones, who has been manager and editor of the Butts County Progress since 1908 has purchased that paper from Mr. Alfred Akerman, of Athens.

Since Mr. Jones has had the entire management of the paper since his first connection with it, it is due to him that it has become such an excellent paper.

The Progress is one of the best weeklies in Georgia and the people of Jackson and Butts county should be proud of their paper.

We wish the new owner and publisher every success.

Why is it that a boy who requires corporal punishment to do chores at home will spend his playtime working for a neighbor and think it lots of fun?

In Memoriam.

The following resolution adopted at the meeting of Ogeechee Lodge F. & A. M., at the regular meeting on Tuesday evening, Jan. 21, has been handed to the TIMES with the request that it be given space:

On January 3, 1913, about two twelve, T. A. Waters, the Mason, passed from the labors of life to the refreshments of eternal rest.

Tonight, for the fourth time in 27 years, our venerable tyler is absent from his post, where he has been faithful to guard us against intrusion. When we realize that the hand that grasped the sword of protection for us in life is now cold in death; when we realize that only the memory of his good deeds and brotherly love is left us, we feel sad. Our hearts have an aching void, and we are led to contemplate upon the passing of mortal man. But oh, the richness and sweetness of those memories. From 1884 to 1912 the historic records of this lodge stand as a silent, perpetual record of the faithfulness and zeal of "Uncle Alex." From the organization of the First District Masonic Convention in 1906 he was its tyler. His column of life was broken at the age of 71, having been born Feb. 11, 1842, and was a Mason in 1866.

The men that were his equal in age in Masonry have gone to their reward long ago. Though their names be loved to hear have been carved for many a year on the tomb, still "Uncle Alex" did not seem to feel the loneliness among his brethren that generally attends old age. With the same simple, implicit faith that characterized him among us, he answered the summons of the messenger of Death.

WHEREAS, in accordance with the natural law that governs mortals, T. A. Waters answered the summons of death on Friday, Jan. 3, 1913; and

WHEREAS, His taking away has saddened our hearts and left a void that will be hard to fill, therefore be it

Resolved, 1st. That we drape our altar for thirty days. We mourn his loss and will ever foster the many tender memories of our association with him.

2nd. That we emulate the worthy example he set for us as a faithful Mason.

3rd. That we extend to his grief-stricken family our sympathy and send them a copy of these resolutions; also that we send a copy to the secretary of the District Masonic convention to be read at the next meeting.

4th. That we cause a page of our minutes to be set aside for this resolution, and that they be printed in our county papers.

STONG REASONS STATED FOR ADVICE GIVEN TO THE FARMERS OF BULLOCH

Statesboro, Ga., Jan. 27, 1913.
TO THE SEA ISLAND COTTON GROWERS:

The very unusual and serious conditions confronting the farming interests of our section at present prompt us to express our views relative to the plans for the coming season, since the business we carry on is so closely related to the farming interests.

We are in position to solicit business from the best class of trade in a greater volume than we have ever done, but before doing this we believe it will be well to seriously consider what our principal debt paying bill will be.

Heretofore sea island cotton has been our principal money crop, and we have looked more to that than any other commodity to meet our obligations, but now the sea island cotton growing industry is threatened with destruction by the competition of long staple cotton grown in Egypt.

The present condition of the sea island cotton market and the absolute indifference the spinners have shown toward using sea island cotton the past two seasons, creates a very uneasy feeling with us, and materially concerns all business where sea island cotton is grown.

For the past few years a new growth of staple cotton has been produced in Egypt, but in greater quantity the past two seasons, and this is, beyond question, being substituted for our sea islands. Their staple is a trifle shorter than ours but the consumers claim that its staple is stronger and a great deal more regular. The spinners complain about the out-turn of our sea islands, the principal objection being its irregularity and unreasonable amount of waste.

It is very unusual to see such a short crop as was made the past season remain unsalable at comparatively moderate prices. Consumers claim the Egyptian staple is a satisfactory substitute for our sea islands, and the fact that they are not interested in ours after so long a wait is evidence that they are satisfied.

The imports of Egyptian staples to the United States up to January 1st from this season's crop was more than 50,000 bales weighing about 800 pounds each, which is equivalent to an average crop of our sea islands. This compares with less than 20,000 bales during the corresponding period of the previous season.

It is claimed that the Egyptian planters find this new staple cotton so much more profitable that they will increase their acreage, and the production will doubtless be greater another season. Then, too, they claim that it matures earlier than the other varieties, and is less susceptible to frosts and insects which they have to contend with; and it is an undisputed fact that they can grow it much cheaper than we can grow sea island.

With this condition confronting us, the risk of producing another crop of sea islands is entirely too hazardous, and we think it very unwise to continue growing it. We therefore strongly advise the planting of short staple cotton.

This is written with all seriousness, and not with an idea of boosting the price of the stock now on hand. By reason of the fact that we have refrained from buying only in a small way this season, our interest in the price of the present stock is not so great as what we are to have for another season. Always has an intrinsic value. Sea islands have not.

THIRTY-TWO YEARS IN FERTILIZER BUSINESS

WE are now starting out on our thirty-second season in Bulloch County with the Guano of the Savannah Guano Co. These goods have stood the test of these years in Bulloch county and have given satisfaction to those who have used them. They are still being manufactured and shipped from the same place, and by the same people who manufactured and shipped them thirty-two years ago.

WITH our sales many times larger now than when first shipped here, we are ready and prepared to receive orders and ship the goods to the people of Bulloch county, and ask those who have been using these goods for a continued part of their orders; and those who have not as yet, we ask to give them a trial, which we feel they will find satisfactory.

THOSE who wish carloads of our goods, or smaller quantities, will please call on one of the representatives of the Savannah Guano Co., or write or call on J. W. Wilson at Statesboro, Ga.

WE thank you for past patronage, and hope that we will be favored with a continuance of the same.

Negro Shoots Wife Because Of Jealousy of Another

Because of jealousy of attentions which she allowed from another negro, Fred James shot and seriously wounded his wife, Hester James, last Sunday night in "Nab Row," near the oil mill. The pistol ball struck the woman in the thigh, and lodged in the limb. Fred is now in jail.

Fred and Hester have figured more or less prominently in the mayor's court on former occasions on account of the popularity of the woman among the male sex of her race. Hester formerly had a habit of beautifying herself by the wearing of a wig at all times, and on one occasion was before Judge Strange as mayor, when he lectured her upon her conduct and forbade her to ever come in his court again wearing her bewitching make-up.

Walter Olliff Narrowly Escapes Accidental Death

While engaged in moving a house on his place near Adabelle last Saturday afternoon, Mr. Walter Olliff happened to an accident which nearly cost him his life. He was using a stump pulling apparatus to move the house and the chain parted upon which the lever flew back and struck Mr. Olliff, who was following behind the mule, and knocked him unconscious. He was thrown several feet by the blow, and it was thought at first that he was fatally hurt. He soon rallied, however, and is now thought to be improving.

Metter Merchant Offers Settlement to Creditors

Mr. Mercer, of Metter, doing a general mercantile business, has made an assignment to his creditors with an offer of settlement at fifty cents on the dollar or indebtedness. A meeting of Mr. Mercer's creditors was held at this place last Friday, at which time the offer was made. The total indebtedness of Mr. Mercer is given at approximately $29,000, with assets of about half that amount.

Mr. Mercer has been engaged in business at Metter for the past five years or longer, and has been doing quite an extensive business. Poor collections for the past year is the chief cause for the present financial embarrassment.

Hints for Housekeepers.

Keep Foley's Honey and Tar Compound always on hand, and you can quickly head off a cold by its prompt use. It contains no opiates, heals and soothes the inflamed air passages, stops the cough and may save a doctor's bill. In the yellow package. Sold by Franklin Drug Co. (Adv.)

WHOOPING COUGH DANGEROUS DISEASE

Atlanta, Ga.—(Special).—Mothers who consider whooping cough a trivial disease make a serious and often fatal mistake, says the Georgia State Board of Health. On the other hand, it is very fatal; it causes every year in the United States nearly or quite as many deaths as scarlet fever, and almost one-half as many deaths as diphtheria.

Approximately 5,000 deaths in the United States are caused annually by whooping cough, and of these about 97 per cent. are of children under five years of age. If the child reaches five years of age without having the disease, the chances are strongly in favor of his escaping it altogether, though it is by no means certain and it is well to continue to take precautions against it whenever necessary.

Thus, it is the babies who suffer most from whooping cough and whose lives are too often laid down in needless sacrifice to it. Save the babies from it and the problem is solved.

Considering the danger in whooping cough, its fatality resulting more largely from complications that follow it than from the disease itself, it is strange that so many mothers know it so lightly, and have even been known in some instances to permit their children to be exposed to it while young upon the theory that they are better able to stand it and that it is well for them to have it early and be through with it. This is a mistaken and dangerous view to take. Inflammation of the breathing tubes, which is severe in this disease, is often followed by pneumonia of an exceedingly fatal type. Besides, being one of the most frequent causes of pneumonia in children, whooping cough is a highly contagious disease in which the coughing fits are severely inflamed, and which is accompanied by a peculiar paroxysmal cough ending in the "whoop" sound. The real cause of the disease is not known; it has been many theories involving numerous germs, but none of them have been proven out. That the disease is spread almost entirely by means of contact—a contact which may be fairly close and intimate—is the generally accepted view as to the manner of its contraction. We cannot get a child in a home and it, the others are practically sure to contract it. It is not generally believed to be carried by other persons or through insects, clothing or other articles. Close contact will spread it in the open air, but it is not so liable to do so as in the house.

For the first few days after contracting the disease the child seems to be in an ordinary cold which does not yield to customary treatment. The cold will continue for a week or ten days; the child grows feverish and restless; the cough becomes gradually deeper and harsher; the child also suffers from loss of appetite and becomes restless and sleepless at night. The next stage is more severe, and the child begins to cough from which the disease gets its name. If the child is in bed, a coughing spell may come on with warning; if up and about it may be restless and disturbed, seeming to feel that an attack is coming on. Any slight disturbance such as eating, drinking or crying will bring on a spell, beginning with a short cough, followed by a long series of coughs which gradually become shorter and shorter, racking the whole body and causing the greatest distress. At the end of the series of coughs the child is breathless; its breath is drawn in with a sudden catch and whoop, sometimes three or four attacks may come in succession, leaving the child completely exhausted.

Every case of whooping cough should be treated by a physician, for proper treatment not only lessens the child's suffering, but it is a prompt recognition of the symptoms of any dangerous complication which might threaten the child's life. Health authorities have done little toward stamping out the disease because of the generally prevalent belief that it is of a more or less trivial nature. But it would undoubtedly materially lessen the spread of the disease, if health authorities would take hold of it as they do of other dangerous contagious diseases, placarding the houses in which there are whooping cough patients and giving wise warning against the contagion. It would be cruel to confine children with whooping cough entirely to the house; they need the fresh air. But it has been suggested that children with whooping cough should be marked with a ribbon of some specified color worn on the arm when they go out as a warning to others against the spread of the disease. Such protective measures must have a tendency to prevent the spread of the disease.

Adoption of these protective measures can only be brought about when people are convinced of their value and necessity. The spread of whooping cough can easily be controlled when the parents of any community will unite in the work. Parents whose children have the disease should warn their neighbors and friends against visiting them; they should see to it that their children when out do not mingle with other children and they should not let other people's children come to their homes. Likewise, parents of children not affected with the disease, should keep their children severely away from those who have it. If these precautions are adopted and heeded, whooping cough will be kept away from the community, and a marked reduction in the amount of the disease will follow, hundreds of lives will be saved and the future health of a community preserved.

A Burning Shame

Mr. Editor:

I know that it is an unpopular thing to condemn sin or evil of any kind, but at the risk of being criticised and evil spoken of by those who are guilty, I propose to condemn one of the worst evils extant—pistol toting and handling of useless guns which is close kin to the whiskey traffic. We can scarcely pick up a secular paper without seeing an account of some one being killed by the use of these abominable instruments. No one has any need of them. They are a curse and a nuisance. When I see a fellow with a pistol in his pocket I mark him as a coward. We read of highway robbers holding up trains at the point of pistols, and other folks while attending to their legitimate business. Men shoot their wives and wives shoot their husbands with pistols. We also read of innocent children getting killed while playing with pistols and sometimes with what are called "parlor rifles."

And there are too many guns these days. In the days of our forefathers there were lots of wild and ferocious animals, such as bears, wolves and foxes that they had to guard against, but they have become extinct and guns are of but little use in our section of the country now. Of course it is well for each family to own a gun, also could guard. Even birds have almost become a thing of the past. I haven't seen a flock of doves this season, and we scarcely ever see a mocking bird or a blue bird. They have nearly all been killed out. These species are not only harmless but beneficial to the farmer in destroying flies, worms and other mischievous insects. Yes, even the sapsuckers are nearly all gone; and they, too, are harmless and the farmers' friends. We have a lot of free negroes and free white boys these days who are allowed to roam the woods killing these harmless and useful birds and wasting precious time that should be spent in profitable employment. Much has been said and written against the useless slaughter of birds, but to no avail. Notwithstanding these evils I see guns and pistols advertised for sale, which is close kin to advertising the whiskey traffic. There should be a law to punish a man for selling pistols. B. W. DARSEY

Ear Wig Caused Man To Lose His Mind

Valdosta, Ga., Jan. 23.—One of the most remarkable cases the physicians of this county have yet seen was that of a negro named Anthony Caesar, who has been crazy for about twelve months, his insanity being due to the fact that an "ear wig" or a "thousand legs" had been lodged in his ear for the past several weeks. His recovery was almost instantaneous and was due to the fact that one of the negro preachers became angry with him last night and knocked him down. When his head struck the floor of the cell, where he was confined, a large "ear wig" fell from his ear. The negro got up with a laugh and has been all right since then.

His recovery was almost instantaneous and was due to the fact that one of the negro preachers became angry with him last night and knocked him down. When his head struck the floor of the cell, where he was confined, a large "ear wig" fell from his ear. The negro got up with a laugh and has been all right since then.

Valdosta, Ga., Jan. 23.—One of the most remarkable cases the physicians of this county have yet seen was that of a negro named Anthony Caesar, who has been crazy for about twelve months, his insanity being due to the fact that an "ear wig" or a "thousand legs" had been lodged in his ear for the past several weeks. His recovery was almost instantaneous and was due to the fact that one of the negro preachers became angry with him last night and knocked him down.
